RESIDENTIAL ARCHITECT OF THE YEAR

Chris Lilley Architectural Services

Chris Lilley Architectural Services is a bespoke architectural designer for domestic properties in Lincolnshire and the surrounding counties. Whether clients want alterations, extensions, or an entirely new home, owner and sole designer, Chris, works in synchronicity with them to achieve their desired results and, ultimately, improve the look and feel of their space. Starting with an initial consultation, Chris moulds his clients' ideas into a tangible design that maximises form and function, allowing the property to work practically and stylistically for their lifestyle. Chris is then on-hand to offer his expertise throughout each stage of the building process, right through to completion.

The judges praised the approach Chris takes towards the design of the properties he transforms, which allows the client to be front and centre throughout. Relishing the challenge presented by listed buildings and barn conversions, Chris helps property owners realise what they can achieve by prioritising their ideas. He values a strong professional relationship with his clients, listening attentively to produce well-thought-out designs. The quality of the 3D projection visuals Chris creates is outstanding, which not only helps the homeowner to visualise their new space, it also helps contractors complete the building work accurately.
